

MEXICANS CATCH FLEEING BANDITS NEAR BOUNDARY

Three of Same Gang That Killed Americans in Jail at Juarez.

EL PASO, Aug. 1.—While General Gonzales at Juarez awaits reports from the Mexican detachment which took up the chase of the two bandits driven back into Mexico Monday following the fight near Fort Hancock, three members of the same gang are lying in the Juarez jail on the charge of banditry. They were caught by Carranzistas in an action on the Mexican side two days prior to the Hancock fight.

Military Honor for Wood.
It was announced today at the El Paso military headquarters that Robert L. Wood, the newly appointed customs inspector killed in the fight Monday, will be buried at Fort Bliss with military honors.

Wood was to have taken up his duties as a customs officer at a ford below Fort Hancock the morning he met his death. But the night before he had discovered the lair of the bandits and he guided the American cavalrymen there.

For this service he will receive the honor to which an army scout is entitled.

So far as can be learned here Wood had no relatives. He was unmarried and came from Strawberry Point, Iowa.

Private John J. Twomey of the Eighth cavalry, who fell near Wood in the attack on the adobe huts of the bandits will also be given a soldier's funeral at Fort Bliss.

New York Social Leader on Way to Paris for War Relief Work

TURKISH TROOPS REACH LEMBERG

Germans Not Alarmed at Russian Advances, Calling Them Indecisive.

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—Turkish officers are now a familiar sight in the streets of Lemberg in the vanguard of the Turkish troops being sent to the south-eastern battle front has already been determined, according to a dispatch from the Galician capital. The Ottoman forces, however, apparently have not yet been thrown into the struggle. The German commanders are biding their time to deliver their counter blows at the Russian disorganizing the indecisive successes which General Brusilov and his associate army commanders may be able to attain by the tremendous expenditure of force.

Line Made Shorter.
The Russian retirement on the Lusk front from Kishin northward to the point where the Enchel-Sarny railroad crosses the Stokhod and the abandonment of the convoluted line following the meandering course of the Stokhod is regarded here without apprehension and in fact, as in a certain way, a hopeful sign as the new line running across the big bend in the Stokhod is only about twenty-eight miles long in contrast with the approximately fifty-three miles of the former front. A proportionately smaller force is capable of defending it the surplus thus being released for employment elsewhere.

British Prepare Attack.
On the western front the British, according to German war correspondents, appear to be on the point of reattempting the task which they found repulsive on July 1—namely, to crush the German front north of the Aisne Brook in an attempt to reach Bapaume from the west. The British artillery fire on the front between Gommecourt and Beaumont-Hamel on Saturday and Sunday was of the most violent character, being apparently preliminary to a new onslaught against the heavily fortified line upon which the British divisions dashed themselves valiantly but vainly in the first days of their storming attack. Simultaneously the British artillery was extremely active on the front eastward from Thiepval.

BERLIN FIGURES GIVE SEA LOSS

Forty-Nine Allied Warships Sunk and Thirty of Tonnage, Says Statement.

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—Forty-nine warships, with an aggregate of 562,000 tons, have been lost by the entente allies during the war, according to statistics given out today by the German admiralty. The figures being brought up to June 30. Of this number, says the statement, the British lost forty vessels with a tonnage of 485,000 tons.

The losses of the Teutonic allies are given in the statement as thirty warships of 162,000 tons in the aggregate. The British losses are given as comprising eleven battleships, seventeen armored cruisers and twelve cruisers.

Merchant ships sunk by the Teutonic allies, according to the statement, number a total of 1,843 with an aggregate tonnage of 2,000,574.

"During last year," adds the statement, "thirty-eight violations of international law committed by enemy merchant ships against our submarines have been proved."

Cool Winds Refresh.
